Reaching out isn’t weak. It’s strong.

If you or someone you know needs help, tell someone.

Everyone faces challenges, but sometimes difficult times can be more than you can handle by yourself. You are not alone. It’s OK to ask for support for yourself or a friend in need. Sometimes it’s critical. Loyola has a number of resources and services in place for this very reason—to help our campus community. The health and well-being of all of our students is our No. 1 priority. And we want to make it easy for you to take that step and get the help you need.

Step UP! Bystander Intervention Program
Step UP! is bystander intervention training so you’ll have tools to help safely and effectively intervene in difficult situations.
• Recognize reasons why people don’t intervene
• Develop intervention skills
• Build the confidence to help
• Learn to act on your values
• Help turn a crisis into a caring situation

Step UP! training is a 1.5-hour interactive program offered by Student Affairs. To request a session, email dmward@loyno.edu

Amnesty
Call (504) 865-3434, and wait for help.
If you seek medical help for yourself or someone else due to alcohol or drug use, you won’t get a conduct violation. Please call emergency services, say you need assistance due to alcohol or drug use, provide the name(s) to the operator, and then stay with the person until help arrives.

Loyola University Police Department
(504) 865-3434 or 911
Loyola University New Orleans’ Public Safety Department maintains a safe environment for learning, living, and working.
Any on-campus emergency, crime in progress, suspicious circumstances, or conditions that threaten the safety or security of community members or guests of the university should be reported immediately.
